

PROJECT UPDATE

Luddenham Advanced Resource Recovery Centre (ARRC)

September 2026

Project Overview:

The ARRC is designed to process up to 600,000 tonnes per annum of non-putrescible general solid waste, including building and demolition waste, as well as commercial and industrial waste. The facility aims to achieve a recovery rate of 85% from the processing of incoming materials.

The development is fully funded by private capital and is expected to generate 65 construction jobs and 178 operational jobs (70 direct and 108 indirect).

Upcoming work and milestones:

The project is now in its final stages of construction, with the following key activities planned over the coming months:

- Completion of remaining building works, including internal fit-out and commissioning activities.
- Commencement of the Elizabeth Drive and Adams Road intersection upgrade, scheduled to commence on 9 October 2026.
- Commencement of Adams Road widening and heavy patch repairs between the site access road and Anton Road on 9 October 2026.

What's happening now?

Significant progress has been made across the project, with the main facility building now substantially complete and external works nearing completion.

Construction of the site access road has also progressed significantly and is in its final stages. The remaining works are expected to be completed over the coming months, with project completion and commissioning scheduled for January 2027.

We will continue to keep the community informed as the project approaches completion.

How Will Our Work Affect You?

These works are part of the ongoing development of the ARRC.

- Traffic Changes: Temporary lane closures and reduced speed limits will be in effect during construction stage.
- Communication: Residents in the immediate vicinity will receive specific notifications closer to the commencement dates to help you plan ahead.

We appreciate your patience as we progress these site access and safety improvements.
